MORE DISCIPLESHIP PRINCIPLES

Discipleship—the effort both to be a disciple and to make other disciples—is about the immense value of God at work in one individual’s life and the resulting impact on other lives.<sup>1</sup>

Bill Hull

BEFORE GOING ANY FURTHER, IS CHRIST ON THE THRONE?

If not, make sure He is!

MEMORY VERSE

The things which you have heard from me in the presence of many witnesses, entrust these to faithful men who will be able to teach others also.

2 Timothy 2:2 [NASB<sup>95</sup>]

LEADERS HARVEST

Jesus taught His followers to humbly and lovingly serve those they lead, teaching them with vivid and unforgettable illustrations, telling them to follow His example (Jn. 13:5-16). Discipleship requires a genuine willingness to invest one’s life in the lives of those they lead, teaching them and giving them a personal example. The relationship between Paul and Titus is a classic example of this sort of discipleship. Titus traveled with Paul (Gal. 2:1-3) and helped him minister to the Corinthian church (2 Cor. 7:13). Paul left Titus in Crete to “straighten out what was left unfinished and appoint elders in every town” (Titus 1:5 NIV). Paul fills the short book of Titus with a treasure trove of leadership principles for Titus’ ministry, leadership principles all oriented towards multiplying disciples. Based on the trust in Titus that Paul displays through the assignment in Crete, we can be sure that the faithfulness in discipleship that Titus displayed earlier in his ministry (with Paul and the Corinthians) was continued later as well. Jesus worked through Paul to grow Titus into a multiplying disciple-maker, who followed Paul’s example and did likewise. It is imperative that we, as believers and leaders, multiply Christ-like multipliers in a similar manner!

Notes:

Remember, we must harvest by showing that we care (Rom. 12:10), standardizing four contexts (Heb. 10:24-25), by searching for FAITH Christians (investing in faithful people (2 Tim. 2:2)), and by sticking with transferable tools (2 Tim. 3:16-17). Last week we looked at the first and the third of these points, and dove into mentoring and how that relates to discipleship. This week, we will look deeper at the importance of transferable tools, and look at the role that equipping plays in a discipleship relationship, including the Four Contexts of Discipleship.

- Did the last chapter challenge you on the topic of discipleship? If so, how?

THE BUILD ACRONYM

Mentoring a young disciple without equipping him to do the Great Commission always puts a stop to spiritual multiplication. There are several needs that each disciple has, and you must be ready to provide for those needs. There are five critical components you must equip the young disciple with, and these are summarized with the BUILD acronym: Bible, Under-structure, Instruction, Life application, and Destination.

BIBLE

Equip them with the Bible. The Bible is the source of growth (1 Cor. 3:2, Heb. 5:12, 1 Peter 2:2). Building multiplying Christ-like multipliers requires a commitment to the Scripture. A believer of any age that will not see God's Word as the ultimate source of truth and the standard of accountability may not be teachable, and will need to be willing to grow in that area first before any further growth as a Christian will occur. For us, as disciple-makers, it is imperative that we saturate every conversation, all instruction, every application point or practice—the entire discipleship relationship—with God's Word. Make it a point to put your Bible on the table during every appointment. This will set a Biblical atmosphere and commitment for every conversation. God has already given believers everything they need for life and godliness—and that comes through the knowledge of Him found in, and the promises made in, His Word (2 Peter 1:3-4). Discipleship ultimately involves helping a younger believer learn to walk in everything they have been provided with in God's Word through the power of His Holy Spirit.

→ Read 2 Tim. 3:16-17. How does that relate to discipleship?

→ How can you help a younger believer learn to love and live by God's Word, through the power of His Holy Spirit?

UNDER-STRUCTURE

Equip them with an under-structure. Discipleship doesn't happen in a vacuum, but requires an environment conducive to growth. Heb. 10:24-25 says:

...let us consider how to stimulate one another to love and good deeds, not forsaking our own assembling together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another; and all the more as you see the day drawing near...

Discipleship requires an environment of authentic fellowship (not just hanging out) and accountability for action. This "under-structure" is what we call the Four Contexts of Discipleship:

[1] meeting one-on-one weekly for discipleship (the individual aspect), [2] meeting in a small group Bible study weekly (the team aspect), [3] being part of a large group weekly (the event aspect), and [4] being involved in consistent outreach and personal evangelism (putting it all into application). We briefly mentioned these in Homework Packet 13, but will go into these more extensively later in this chapter.

→ Remember how you grew as a believer in Jesus. How was your growth influenced by either the presence of, or lack thereof, the Four Contexts of Discipleship?

Notes:

LIFE APPLICATION

Equip them with life application. The young disciple needs to learn how to put their training into action, relying completely on the Holy Spirit. First and foremost, our example will guide them more than words ever could. We must also strategically plan application opportunities for the believers we come alongside to disciple. Delegation is an important tool for our toolbox in this area. John Maxwell agrees, encouraging leaders that they must delegate anything someone else can do 80% as well as they can.<sup>2</sup> Delegating to those we disciple will give them opportunities to follow our example and apply what we have taught them. Sure, they will make mistakes along the way, but we must be comfortable letting them fail and learn from their mistakes, encouraging them along the way. You should encourage them and help them see how to grow through every application. Knowledge without application leads to pride (1 Cor. 8:1) and deception (James 1:22); training without application does more harm than good. Again, Steve Shadrach reminds us that “training that lasts is taught and caught.”<sup>3</sup> Getting those you disciple in where the action is, is the way that you make sure they catch what you teach them. Help those you disciple learn to take risks—applying God’s Word—and set an example of godly risk-taking for them. (For more on taking risks for Jesus, Homework Packet 4 covered this topic in more detail.)

- Read Matt. 7:24-27. How important is application in the discipleship process?

- How has your growth suffered due to a lack of application? How has applying your faith helped you grow?

- How can you help a younger believer put God’s Word into practice this week?

Notes:

DESTINATION

Equip them with a destination. All great tasks require a motivating vision. Discipleship is no different. If you want someone to be committed to growing into who God made them to be, you will need to give them a motivating picture of what their life could be like if they commit to the discipleship process. Be careful to include the picture of the Christ-like multiplier they can become, helping them see how their diligence now will equip them to disciple others in the future. Reiterate the vision of what will result from their continued growth at every opportunity. Again, communicate their potential in Christ to them often!

- Read Ps. 1:1-3 and Jer. 17:5-8. How do these passages paint a picture of the future for those willing to commit to growing firmly in God's Word?

KEEP THE PROCESS GOING

Ministry in general and discipleship specifically are a process. Discipleship doesn't end. Continue strategizing how to invest in those God has called you to disciple. The One-Year Discipleship tool, is one tool that can help you do this. As those you disciple grow, keep investing in their lives. This will require that you continue growing as well (remember Lk. 6:40). Howard Hendricks reminds us that, "If you stop growing today, you stop teaching tomorrow."<sup>4</sup> Keep learning, growing and applying so you can keep investing in those you disciple. They will need the encouragement at every point in their growth. Keep meeting with them even as they become stronger and begin multiplying. It is probably more important to keep investing in them once they start multiplying than at any other stage in discipleship because this is when multiplication finally becomes real to them.

- How has your growth been impacted positively because of the presence of someone discipling you or negatively because of the lack of one?

Notes:

THE FOUR CONTEXTS OF DISCIPLESHIP

As mentioned previously, a young disciple of Jesus will not grow well on their own—they need a community of believers—they need us! The Four Contexts of Discipleship are not some new strategy or newly developed thought—Jesus and the early disciples of Jesus demonstrated discipleship using all four of these contexts. It's important that we follow His example, because healthy Christians grow best when they are involved in all four of these fellowship contexts.

1 | 1-ON-1

This interaction provides a context for a new Christian to ask questions directly to a more mature Christian—striving side-by-side for the faith of the Gospel. This context is key for meeting the believer where they are at. When meeting one-on-one with another believer, it is important that men only meet with other men, and women only meet with other women. One helpful tool we have for this discipleship context is the One-Year Discipleship resource, which we look at in more depth later in this packet. We see Paul disciple Timothy (Acts 16:1-5, 1 Cor. 4:17, 1 Tim. 1:2, 2 Tim. 1:2), Titus (Titus 1:4), and others. While one-on-one is the most effective environment for this form of discipleship, we aren't limited to only meeting one person with one person. The important thing is that the interaction is still one that allows for vulnerability and accountability. We see Jesus interact directly with Peter in John 21:15-19, and we see Jesus interact specifically with a small group of His disciples directly (Luke 9:28-36, Mark 10:35-45, Matt. 26:36-38).

2 | SMALL GROUP

In this context, groups are small enough for all to have an opportunity to participate in the study or discussion. Jesus chose twelve men (and an unknown number of women) to pour into during His three years of ministry. Jesus might have taught in parables to larger groups, but He disclosed the meaning of these stories to His disciples (think about the parable of the sower in Mark 4:1-20). It was to His disciples that He taught through example (i.e. washing of their feet in John 13:1-20), taught through demonstration (i.e. demonstrating His authority over creation by calming the storm at sea in Matt. 8:23-27), prayed with and for His disciples (John 17), sent them out to apply and teach what they had learned (Matt. 10:5-15, 28:18-20), and much more. One type of small group that is beneficial for this context is the

Notes:

Growth Group. Growth groups are a great type of small group designed to help believers grow in their faith. We will look at Growth Groups more in depth in a future homework packet.

3 | CHURCH [LARGE GROUP]

We need each other, as the Church, in order to grow as Christians. Jesus taught to large crowds of people (consider the Sermon on the Mount, Matt. 5-7), teaching by example (i.e. His prayer as He raised Lazarus, John 11:41-42), lesson (Matt. 5-7), and demonstration (i.e. His demonstration before the crowd of power over life and death with Lazarus (John 11:45) and ultimately His own resurrection (1 Cor. 15:6)). Paul writes in several places about the importance of being involved in the Body of Christ (Rom. 12:3-8, 1 Cor. 12-14, Eph. 4:1-16), and, as mentioned earlier, the author of Hebrews also expresses the importance of this context of discipleship (Hebrews 10:24-25). This context is key for fellowship and worship—joining with a large community of like-minded Christ followers to grow.

4 | MINISTRY [APPLICATION]

This context is just as crucial for a believer's growth as the others. When a believer participates in evangelism, discipleship, and/or other Great Commission ministry, they put their faith into practice, and learn in ways that they would not have had the same opportunity to in the other discipleship contexts. Jesus sent His disciples out at various points to participate in the ministry with Him (Luke 9:1-6, 10:1). Paul took Titus, Timothy, and others with him on his missionary journeys, and delegated responsibilities to them to put their faith into practice—training them up to lead in communities in the future. James, writing to believers, makes the most bold statement of all, "...faith by itself, if it does not have works, is dead" (James 2:17). He is not writing about a salvation issue here, but about the importance of living out our faith. If we as Christians only say we believe, but never do anything about what we believe, or practice our faith in action through evangelism, discipleship, and other Great Commission ministry, we make no more impact for the Kingdom of God than a non-Christian or a dead man—and that should humble us for one, and, for another, should spur us on to engage in this ministry context of discipleship.

THE ONE-YEAR DISCIPLESHIP TOOL

The One-Year Discipleship (OYD) tool is a simple, biblical, transferable tool. It is designed to be easily printed or copied on one piece of paper (front and back) in order that you and those you disciple can make as many copies as you need. You can find this resource online, in many languages, at www.greatcommissionalliance.org/oyd. This tool includes 40 appointments to meet with a believer, helping them grow and preparing them to eventually work through this process with another believer as well!

The front page includes clear instructions guide you through how to lead each appointment. Each appointment you meet with the growing believer to either study God's Word, apply what you have learned, or connect as fellow believers in Christ.

| STUDY

Every Study appointment begins with a passage with direct quotes from Jesus so the focus is always on Him. Keep a Bible out as you go through these passages to keep the centrality of Scripture a focus in all of your appointments. Use the Inductive Bible Study method as you work through Scripture together:

- » Observation. Investigate the Scripture—asking who, what, where, when, why, and how questions, considering the context, etc..
- » Interpretation. Draw out the meaning of the passage, considering the observations you have made, the context, and any cross-references listed.
- » Application. After observation (and investigation), and then careful interpretation, we must live by what God's Word says (James 1:22).

As you keep working through the inductive approach, you'll help the young believer learn how to study the Word.

| APPLY

Apply appointments keep it practical. Always emphasize relying on God's grace and the power of His Spirit for the application of His Word. Continue the evangelism application times and make sure to begin using this same resource with everyone who trusts in Christ. The OYD is designed to help believers actually multiply at least once each year. That will happen as you and those you disciple keep sharing and start going through this tool with everyone you lead to Christ.

Notes:

 | CONNECT

Occasional Connect appointments help make sure discipleship is relational in addition to the intellectual, theological, and practical aspects of it. These are not only opportunities for review, but also to develop friendship and fellowship that the Body of Christ is built to thrive with.

At the end of each appointment, check the checkbox. After working through the OYD with a believer, celebrate with them! This helps create a culture of discipleship in our churches and communities.

→ Why is it so important to keep doing evangelism in discipleship?

DISCIPLE-MAKING IS CRITICAL

Disciple-making is the only way we'll reach the world for Jesus. If every believer alive today multiplied once each year and continued multiplying, the world would be reached in about four years! Is it any wonder that Christ commanded us to do this more than 2,000 years ago (Matt. 28:18-20)? Unfortunately, most ministries are more focused on trying to pack out ministry gatherings. There's nothing wrong with a large group, as long as authentic, multiplicational discipleship is its focus. If you'll make disciple-making your focus, you'll usually get very little praise, as no one but your Father in heaven will know the true effects of your work. You will, however, be doing the thing He commanded us to do—making disciples (Matt. 28:18-10, Acts 1:8).

Remember to harvest by showing that you care (Rom. 12:10), by standardizing four contexts (Heb. 10:24-25), by searching for FAITH Christians (2 Tim. 2:2), and by sticking with transferable tools (2 Tim. 3:16-17).

Remember, your weaknesses, inabilities, failures and past present no challenge to God's will for your life. Your willingness does. Be willing to be and do what God made you for. You don't have what it takes but God's Spirit in you does so be the leader He made you to be and turn this world upside down for Him!

ACT NOW

DISCIPLE YOUNGER FAITH CHRISTIANS

→ Use the One-Year Discipleship tool below to begin discipling a FAITH Christian, using the Four Steps of Discipleship.

1. Initiate. Set up an appointment. Ask them if they would like to meet up for coffee/tea and fellowship some time in the next week. Discipleship is better when you reach out to people of your same gender (you don't want to send mixed signals here). List the five FAITH Christians you listed in Homework Packet 22 (p. 4-5), and include any contact info you will need to connect with them.

- › Name: _____ Contact Info: _____

2. Learn. Have an initial meet up. Pay for their coffee, tea, or snack. Ask about their testimony, even if you think you know them. Clarify the gospel if you need to. Share your testimony (be real about what God has done in your life; this is meant to be a relational time).
3. Invite. Invite them to grow. At the initial meet up, share about discipleship. Ask if they would like to regularly get together to grow in God's word and their personal walk with Christ. If so, ask if they'd like to go through the One-Year Discipleship (OYD) tool<sup>5</sup> together (make sure to print off 2 copies, one for you and one for the person you are meeting with before your appointment). Show them the OYD. Explain how it works. Then, set up a good time to meet up each week and start working through the OYD on a weekly basis to grow in your walks with God.
4. Build. Commit to growing together for a set period of time to start. Ask them to go through the first 8 appointments and let them know you can reevaluate then to see if they want to keep going. Make sure to get to know each other, put what you're learning into practice, and do fun things too occasionally. Finally, encourage them to continue the process, multiplying Christ-like multipliers.

A TRANSFERABLE, MULTIPLICATION TOOL

If you repeat this process each year, and train those you disciple to as well, the whole world could be reached in less than 40 years! God has given you everything you need to do this in His Word and through His Spirit (2 Peter 1:3, Ephesians 5:18).

Instructions: Keep your walk with God strong as you disciple others (John 15:5). Meet weekly (men with men, women with women; Titus 2:1-8). Follow each week's icon instructions. Start with prayer and conversation. Then, follow the outline in this tool. Ask good questions and give sufficient time to answer questions that come up. Always emphasize God's Word, the power of the Spirit, love, acceptance, grace, and freedom. Reiterate past principles covered. Before concluding, schedule the next meeting.

 | STUDY

Read the verses. Discuss observations about each passage (ask who, what, when, where, how, and why questions). Discuss the meaning (consider observations, the context of the passage, and other verses). Discuss how to apply the truth of each passage.

 | APPLY

Do the suggested application idea. Begin and close in prayer. Make sure to debrief the application time.

 | CONNECT

Do something fun. Have a deep conversation about your walk with God (discuss struggles, victories, steps, needs, etc.). Encourage each other. Pray together.

 | CHECK

Check off the box after each appointment. Then, schedule when and where you'll meet next.

Finish in a year if you miss one or less appointments per month!

-  SALVATION » John 3:16; Ephesians 2:8-10; Romans 3:23, 6:23, 5:8, 10:9 » Have you surrendered your life to Christ through faith? If not, do that right now through prayer. If so, you are God's child! Salvation comes by grace, through faith, and not by works. Baptism is just a demonstration of that fact (Matthew 28:18-20). If you haven't been baptized, discuss doing that. Close in prayer. Schedule next appointment.

<sup>2</sup> This is in the context of fellowship or closeness with God.

Notes:

-  PREPARE TO SHARE YOUR STORY » Write 3 things that described you apart from Christ. Then, describe the Gospel (remember last appointment) and how and when you responded. God promises to give you whatever you ask according to His will.
